Quintessential™

SURROUND SOUND SYSTEM

Always in Search of Excellence

Testing has always been a big part of Beachcomber's culture. "Trying a Beachcomber designed surround sound system after comparing other systems is like driving an exclusive European automobile after having becoming used to a mid-range one" says Scott. "In the sports car you have lots of gadgets, buttons and a dashboard with LCD displays, looking more like the inside of a space ship than an automobile. It is the same with hot tubs," he says. "With Beachcomber's simple design, you can just relax and enjoy the sound itself."

Beachcomber's signature aquatic sound system will bring you listening pleasure. Enjoy a fine blend of low, mid and high range sound with quality and clarity.

"Quintessential Surround Sound Exceeds our Expectations"

Beachcomber Hot Tubs was founded in 1978 by Keith Scott. He has always been known for innovating and changing Beachcomber's product to reflect discerning buyer's tastes. "We have been experimenting with sound in hot tubs since 1992" Scott says, "beginning with a voice actuated hot tub, featuring functions like time, date and temperature. Innovating a hot tub surround sound system was a natural and enjoyable progression. Our customers demand good taste and a product that will blend into their outdoor living space with style and grace. They want sound that they can enjoy without disturbing their neighbor's outdoor environment."

Special Thought and Care

Form allows Quintessential equipped hot tubs to use Beachcomber's form fitting Heatshield Cover. Quintessential is engineered right with its flush design that does not break the natural, clean lines of the cabinet. We put your system together with precise thought and care.

Function also means convenience. It can operate your hot tub from some distance away. When you use your Quintessential system, the remote floats or conveniently sits in the body molded hand grip.

Design is not something you buy or simply take off the shelf. It is something that is refined over years of observation with some spectacular successes. I have always said 'innovate or die' and we looked at the Beachcomber Quintessential™ Surround Sound System the same way.

Feel the music, with Quintessential™ Surround Sound

QSS™ PLUS GIVES YOU MORE RESONANCE

Beachcomber's new QSS™ PLUS factory upgrade gives your QSS™ system more dimension to your music. With bass pods engineered into the shell of your hot tub, you get even more low range sound as the acrylic structural shell is virtually converted to a sub woofer. Cabinet vents allow additional ambient bass to surround you with the music you love.

The sound transmits through your whole body, using the hot tub shell as a speaker cone, allowing you to enjoy warmth and good music with your friends and family.

Beachcomber's Quintessential™ Surround Sound System is contained within the hot tub's acrylic shell. You can actually feel the music. It is like being at a live concert and relaxing in the comfort of your Beachcomber Hot Tub at the same time. Your body and the sound from Quintessential™ become one, bringing you closer to your favorite music than you ever imagined. Quintessential™ is a unique concept that allows you the unique combination of relaxation and sound therapy to make you feel good all over.

Beachcomber's QSS™ Surround Sound System

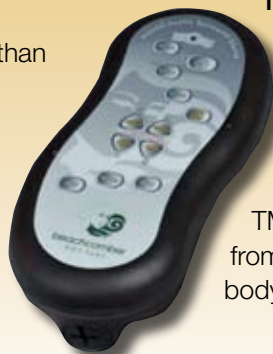

Beachcomber's upgraded sound system gives you a full 280 watt experience. Extra resonating bass with rich low to high range sound lets you experience your favorite music like never before.

Distort versus Reproduce

It is more of a goal by sound makers to create a sound than to reproduce one. The results are often much distorted from the real thing, so much so that it can even become something that the artists never intended. Beachcomber sound designers are attempting to involve the bather as much as possible, rather than manufacturing a simple sound system. Yes, many hot tub manufacturers produce a bright sound, but often nothing like the real sounds of a cello, a grand piano or saxophone that you can actually feel as it plays.

Remote Gives You Dual Functions

Beachcomber's floating TM-2 Microstar Backlit Remote™ gives you all the features you expect from a great sound system. You can operate your QSS™ system, as well as your Beachcomber Management System. With a safety sealed battery compartment, TM-2 is long lasting, allowing you to control your hot tub from a distance away and it fits perfectly into the body molded hand grips.
